

I Remember

Leela James

I've been at old photographs 'cause I miss you, yeah
And I can't find the reasons of why I'm not with you
We had so many good times I thought we'd be forever
(Tell me how) How could we give up on endless nights?

I remember how you used to say you love me
You said you love me
I remember how you felt when you would touch me
You touch me
All I have is memories of what we used to be
What we used to be
I remember baby, I remember baby

Tell me how can we let something so perfect go wrong, no
And how can we let situations break up a happy home
How can we let
Can we pick up all the pieces and put 'em back together
Oh, can we get back to our perfect love

I remember how you used to say you love me
You said you love me
I remember how you felt when you would touch me
You touch me
All I have is memories of what we used to be
What we used to be
I remember baby, I remember baby

I want you back, I want you back, I need your love
I need you, and it's a shame there's no more [?]
Hugging me, kissing me, holding me so tight
I remember the way that it were, submission girl

I remember
I remember how you used to say you love me
You said you love me
I remember how you felt when you would touch me
You touch me
All I have is memories of what we used to be
What we used to be
I remember baby, I remember baby

I remember how it used to be with you and me
And I remember the times we shared were heavenly
We were so good together
And I want that back
I need you back with me

I remember
I remember how you used to say you love me
You said you love me
I remember how you felt when you would touch me
You touch me
All I have is memories of what we used to be
I remember baby, I remember baby, I remember, oh

I remember how you used to say you love me
You said you love me

I remember how you felt when you would touch me
You touch me
All I have is memories of what we used to be
All I have is memories
And I remember baby, I remember baby, I remember

I remember how you used to say you love me
And it felt so good when you touched me
All I have is memories
