

Time Bomb

Legend

We're tired of all the foolish men, who weep away the days
Complaining of society, that life no longer pays
We're tired of tribal prejudice, the vultures of the meek
The eastern and the western, a forever hide and seek
We're tired of threatened holocaust, from scepters of the rich
The lucrative religions, each guru stakes his pitch
We're tired of life's corruption, the politics of hate
Ineffective politicians, controlling Europe's fate
We're tired of mans naivety, pollution of the mind
Destruction of resources, the burning of mankind
We're tired of careless parents, their task so soon neglected
The children of tomorrow, life's morals soon rejected
