

Brilliant Dancer

Lemuria

I, I found some brilliance Inside the moat of the hopelessly masculine Have you ever caught it rain On one side of the street?

I'm nobody, because I'm everybody else And I'm so clear that I'm not that guy She continues to listen and re-cross her legs

This is the last place on Earth That I thought I would find her
This is the last place on Earth That I thought I would find her
Brilliant dancer

I stopped showing up to the trials Of the promises that I never made Give or take three hours of her sight I live in the dark void Please recognize who I am Or who I think I am

I'm nobody, because I'm everybody else And I'm so clear that I'm not that guy She continues to listen and re-cross her legs

This is the last place on Earth That I thought I would find her
This is the last place on Earth That I thought I would find her
Brilliant dancer

Give or take three hours a person Give or take three hours of her sight I live in the dark void

Brilliant dancer Brilliant dancer Brilliant dancer Brilliant dancer

Please recognize who I am I live in the dark void Or who I, or who I think I am I live in the dark void

Brilliant dancer Brilliant dancer Brilliant dancer Brilliant dancer