

A Light Comes Through

Lera Lynn

If I saw you, I would say "I'm ok
I made it through another day
At least today" then I'd say
"Let's get a drink, something strong
Let's forget together what went wrong"
And we'd laugh about those better days
Before you turned

But all this time has made it fade
And now I don't care about
All these holes that you made
Cause a light comes through 'em now
Sometimes a light comes through 'em now

Then you'd tell me about where you been
Tales of the cosmos and being born again
And I'd feel an ease settle in

Then I'd play a song on the stereo
One you love, one you know
And when Brenda Lee sings "I'm Sorry"
I'd know you are too

But all this time has made it fade
And now I don't care about
All these holes that you made
Cause a light comes through 'em now
Sometimes a light comes through 'em now

But all this time has made it fade
And now I don't care about
All these holes that you made
Cause a light comes through 'em now
Sometimes a light comes through 'em now
