

Breakdown

Lera Lynn

Breakdown, go out and cry my love
Breakdown, I love to watch you come undone

This burden is thing that we locked inside
These walks in the ring with the lion's pride
No play by the rules, just fight to win
But every step would thicken our skin
Again and again

Breakdown, I wanna watch you beg and mourn
Breakdown, do it for me nice and slow

There once was a time we'd fight for love
Now it's tooth and nail for bone and blood
The wound is the thrill to hurt the height
So, try and try and you might
We can't break the binds

Breakdown, go out and cry my love
Breakdown, I love to watch you come undone

Breakdown, go out and cry my love
Breakdown, I love to watch you come undone
Breakdown, I wanna watch you beg and mourn
Breakdown, do it for me nice and slow
