

No More Tears

Lesley Gore

Oh, no more tears left to cry
And it's not a very big surprise
'Cause since that lonely day, that you went away
I've cried and cried and cried until my eyes have run dry

No more tears left to cry
No more sighs left to sigh
Remembering the nights I used to hold you tight
I've cried and cried and cried until my eyes have run dry

Loneliness, my heart is filled with loneliness
Where once there was your loving tenderness

Oh, now, no more tears left to cry

Darling, I must apologize
Forgive my broken heart, but if the tears won't start
It's 'cause I've cried and cried until my eyes, they've run dry

Oh, loneliness, my heart is filled with loneliness
Where once there was your loving tenderness

Oh, well, I said no more tears left to cry
Darling, I must apologize
Forgive my broken heart, but if the tears won't start
It's 'cause I've cried and cried until my eyes have run dry
Have run dry
Mmm, they've run dry, oh
