

Last Winter Night

Lethian Dreams

your eyes are slowly getting white your blood's flowing out of your veins you were left alone with a tortured mind You're fading in this last winter night

I touch your skin so white and I beg you to not go in this last winter night
I will stay here all alone

In the misty morning's light my dreams are lost forever and my body feel so cold inside I don't wanna live any longer

and I beg you to not go
in this last winter night
I will stay here all alone

my eyes are slowly getting white my blood's flowing out of my veins I was left alone with a tortured mind we're fading in this last winter night
