

Severance

Lethian Dreams

Blindfold the shores guide me tight
And from these wounds an amber light

Here lies the truth of one's life
And all hopes where once I abided

I was on your side
When the winds echoed my words

My eyes stared down
And you're sailing distant waters now
You're marching on haunting sounds

Blindfold the shores guide me tight
And from these wounds an amber light
Here lies the truth of one's life
And all hopes where once I abided
I was on your side
When the winds echoed my words...
I was on your side...
I was beside you...
Eternal severance
The colours you're leaving to
Won't be seen from my eyes
The flame has died
I was beside...
