Love is a shield
To hide behind
Love is a field
To grow inside
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning round

Love is a baby
In a mother's arms
Love is your breath
Which makes me warm
And when I sometimes close my eyes
My mind starts spinning round

There is a feeling
That flows through me
When you are near
You make it real
And we could live for this ideal

And all the pictures we run through
Seem to be perfect
Seem to be true

But nothing is quite forever
Especially staying together

I don't care now
What comes along
What counts is us
No matter what will be
Just this naivety

The changing words we're taking in
Seem to be perfect
Seem to win

But nothing is quite forever
Especially staying together
