

Rain Down Tears

Levon Helm

You say you're leaving, ain't comin' back
There's nothing I can say to make you unpack
It's gonna rain down tears, rain down tears
You need a shelter somewhere, somewhere

When you're out there, in this world alone
There's gonna be many alike, you'll miss your happy home
It's gonna rain down tears, rain down tears
You'll need a shelter somewhere, somewhere

One empty sag, the look on your face
When you come back darling, someone's in your face
It's gonna rain down tears, rain down tears
You need a shelter somewhere, somewhere
