

When I was ready to begin, you were done
Thought you got everything you wanted out of me
Does it ever feel like you left something behind?
To this day I hope it still weighs on your mind

Do I ever haunt any of you like you haunt me?
What unfinished business could we have
Except for you to warn me that I'm doing it all wrong?
Left something behind?
There is more here, but I have missed the chance to grow

Do you think we could have been happy?
Do you know you've underestimated me?
All this time, you just wanted the chase
Now we're running through my dreams

Does it ever feel like you left something behind?
To this day I hope it still weighs on your mind
When I was ready to begin, you were done
Thought you got everything you wanted out of me

Do you think you got what you wanted out of me?
Do you know you've underestimated me?

All this time, you just wanted the chase

All this time, you just wanted the chase
All this time, we've just been running through my dreams