

Timing Is Everything

Lights

You were walking in the sunset again without a hassle
In the interim, a princess was in another castle
Rolling different knocks, the first days and nights
In the busy towns, if we hadn't walked the same way
Well, I end up on your ground

There I was, none the wiser
Both of us, different trajectories
Who'd have thought we'd be right here in this spot
Timing is everything
Timing is everything

Seems impossible to time it out right when you get no hints
It's a freaky world we live in, but tonight we got our moment

There I was, none the wiser
Both of us, different trajectories
Who'd have thought we'd be right here in this spot
Timing is everything
Timing is everything

You don't know
You've got to trust it will go
If you just roll with the punches, your guts, and your hunches

There I was, none the wiser
Both of us, different trajectories
Who'd have thought we'd be right here in this spot
Timing is everything
Timing is everything

There I was, none the wiser
Both of us, different trajectories
Who'd have thought we'd be right here in this spot
Timing is everything
Timing is everything

Timing is everything
Timing is everything