

Thought You Were Mine

Lil Eddie

Listen to old school on my record player.
those sad love songs get you through being alone.
how i wish that you were here.
trying to erase the picture from my records.
seeing you with him thinking this is insane.
really caught me off guard,
i thought we were really rocking hard baby i promise i'll be...

describe, what makes him better than i.
why, why, why, why, why, why.
why can't it just be me and only me.
i thought you were mine.
what make you think i was fine.
how could you fall for another guy.
right off, and pushed me aside, my dear.

i thought we both knew you were mine.
i guess you were all a disguise.
i said i couldn't believe my eyes.
i gave it one day and i lost my baby
thought we both knew you were mine.

tell me is this the way you had it set up while you were looking from a jump
and thought i never,
found out about you two
what a stupid thing to do.
hold hands with him in public.

when all of my friends knew we were together.
you must've really thought you were pretty clever.
where you even surprised, oh,
you cheated and you lied.
i'm just saying girl, you're so full of it.

describe, what makes him better than i.

i guess you were all a disguise.
i said i couldn't believe my eyes.
i gave it one day and i lost my baby
thought we both knew you were mine.

oh baby, i'm just over my head.
on the situation that's at hand.
i guess we never made it official.
but it don't give you the right to dismiss the issue.
go ahead, throw away all the things i said.
but when i told you that you got the key to my heart,
i never thought we would be apart.

i thought you were mine.

i guess you were all a disguise.
i said i couldn't believe my eyes.
i gave it one day and i lost my baby
thought we both knew you were mine.
