

I Love You

Lilly Wood & The Prick

I can say I broke my neck tryin'
Say break a leg, it's so strange, I don't get it
Oh all the feelings that I'm a stranger to
Oh all the things I know I will never do
I forget why we came here in the first place
I forgive myself for a lot of my mistakes

I love you
There is no one quite like you
And I, I love, I love you
There is no one that is quite like you

Look away, it's my thing how I do it
Feeling sorry for myself, yeah I do it
Oh all the places that I will never see
Oh all the people that I will never meet
I don't regret a single thing that we did
I forgave you for a lot of your mistakes

I love you
There is no one quite like you
And I, I love, I love you
There is no one that is quite like you

I love you
There is no one quite like you
And I, I love, I love you
There is no one that is quite like you

I love you
There is no one quite like you
And I, I love, I love you
There is no one that is quite like you

I love you
I love you
I love you
I love you
