

In Love for the Last Time

Lilly Wood & The Prick

I'm gonna let myself breathe
Let the love be
I'm gonna feel myself whoa
Feel myself whoa
I'm gonna let the time go by
Let grow the feelings I have
And not not apologize
Not apologize

I know I just might be in love for the last time (For the last time)
And all the warmth in the world, it won't take me back (Take me back)
I know I just might be in love for the last time (For the last time)
And all the boys in the world, they won't bring me back
What I had

I know I just might be in love for the last time
And all the warmth in the world, it won't take me back
What I had

I'm gonna blow their minds
It is the only choice that I have
And not apologize
Not apologize
I'm gonna let myself breathe
Let the love be
I'm gonna feel myself whoa
Feel myself whoa

I know I just might be in love for the last time (For the last time)
And all the warmth in the world, it won't take me back
I'm gonna let the time go by
I know I just might be in love for the last time (For the last time)
And all the boys in the world, they won't bring me back
What I had

I know I just might be in love for the last time
And all the warmth in the world, it won't take me back
I know I just might be in love for the last time
And all the boys in the world, they won't bring me back

I know I just might be in love for the last time
And all the warmth in the world, it won't take me back
I know I just might be in love for the last time

And all the warmth in the world, it won't take me back
