

The Loneliest Planet

Lilly Wood & The Prick

In a dream I had, not a human was bad
There was a reason to be sour
In this wonderful place that really doesn't exist
Nothing is ever about race

World, will you ever stop being mad? So mad
World, will you even realize we're all dying now?

But it's always enough to see the first ones go off
There is the right time for a war
And this dreadful place that certain people create
Is the loneliest planet

World, will you ever stop being mad? So mad
World, will you even realize we're all dying now?

Stays with me, stays with me, the fear of feeling lonely
Stays with me, stays with me, all of the time
Stays with me, stays with me, the fear of feeling lonely
Stays with me, stays with me, all of the time

World, will you ever stop being mad? So mad
World, will you even realize we're all dying now?
World, will you ever stop being mad? So mad
World, will you even realize we're all dying now?
