You Should Know Me

Not supposed to talk about it Analyze it We should be there together With our hearts in our hands We should feel it, come together Like the wave meets the sand

Well, you should know me Better than that

Not supposed to try and move in To dive in We should meet there together At our pace with our plan On dry land, clement weather So we both understand

Well, you should know me Better than that

(I get down)
I get up
(I get angry, I get sad)
I get angry, I get sad
Well, I get even a little misty
When I think of what we had

But you're building a dam where our lives should be And you're lying on top of the beauty And your closing eyes turn away from me Refusing to see who I am

Well, you should know me Better than that You should know me Better than that You should know me Better than that Liz Phair
