Nobody there knew they would die before they woke They probably started off a beautiful day with weed smoke Out of last night's pussy, the murder that she wrote Cold sweatin' from a nightmare, mind on a see-note You leave the door with intentions of fulfillin' your visions Constantly sidetracked, thinkin' 'bout who's your man or who isn't Maybe it's necessary - maybe you're overreactin Maybe your actual downfall is that ho that you're clappin' Maybe your pillow conversations been controllin' the actions Maybe your homey overheard and never told you what happened You look behind you when you turn the corner, cause death is promised You done seen some niggaz go before ya, the threats are honest And with that lingerin' in the back of your head You know it's possible that you won't make it back in your bed The confusion and jealousy and dishonor'll spin ya But then none come worse than when that gunpowder's in ya

If you my nigga, you my nigga til the end
Fuck a bill, fuck a bitch, fuck a Benz
Let's toast til we die
Roll up the weed and blow the smoke in the sky la da da
If you my nigga, you my nigga til we go
One of the few I would take a bullet fo'
Let's toast til we die
Roll up the weed and blow the smoke in the sky la da da
