The songs will live on because you made them yours, made them y ours

I remember back on the long distance runner tour
Me, Supreme and Large did the ultimate show Ultimate meaning last and so emotional
It was Josphe's show he had cancer and not much time left His last wish was to see us live before he left
When we played last song the whole crowd was crying
And i felt like the music's a matter of living and dying

The songs will live on because you made them yours, made them y
ours
My friends you ain't gone forever in my thoughts, in my thought

This lady started by saying that her daugther's best friend was so sick
Stomach something doctors can't tell what it is But it's been three months in a hospital bed
And it's been real hard not knowing what's ahead
For us and especially for her of course
She was sad that she missed all of your shows
Last summer but we opened up the balcony door
So she heard you from a far fantasizing about meeting you all I said that can be done just let me know what to do i'll write something on her website too
I mean it's easy for me and if it means anything to her
I'm just blessed to touch somebody else's world
I got a thank you mail sent some autographs over hope you get w ell soon
Probably forgot about it because it felt like a shock when i go t the terrible news
I'm just writing this to let you know that our fight here is ov er she had to go
At least now her pain is gone and she's somewhere better smilin

He made his ultimate playlist
Thinking this is what i wanna listen to when the train hits
My life can't take it so let me take my life
Feeling alone and abandoned mp3player on random

That's why he took it as a sign that some kind of god thought that it wasn't his time
When he looked at the tunnel and the train that came through he heard the first notes of the struggle continues
The title track changed his train of thought and stepped off the train tracks

The songs will live on because you made them yours, made them yours
My friends you ain't gone forever in my thoughts, in my thoughts
