The Dark Night of the Soul

Loreena Mckennitt

Upon a darkened night the flame o love was burning in my breast
And by a lantern bright I fled my house while all in quiet rest

Shrouded by the night and by the secret star I quikly fled The veil concealed my eyes while all within lay quiet as the dead

Oh night though was my guide oh night more loving than the rising sun Oh night that joined the lover to the beloved one transforming each of them into the other

Upon that misty night in secrecy, beyond such mortal sight Without a guide or light than that which burned so deeply in my heart

That fire t'was led me on and shone more bright than of the midday sun To where he waited still it was a place where no one else could come

Within my pounding heart which kept itself entirely for him He fell into his sleep beneath the cedars all my love I gave From o'er the fortress walls the wind would brush his hair against his brow And with its smoothest hand caressed my every sense it would allow

I lost myself to him and laid my face upon my lovers breast And care and grief grew dim as in the mornings mist became the light There they dimmed amongst the lilies fair
there they dimmed amongst the lilies fair
