The Luxury Of Knowing

Lori McKenna

You know when I'm coming home You know when I'm coming to bed You know when I tell you that I love you I mean every word I said

You know I'm a bit too proud You know that I know how to pray You know I won't give this up unless I have to give it up You know I won't walk away

But baby you're like a diesel truck Shifting gears and the pedals stuck Headed straight to the edge and showing no signs of slowing And I don't have the luxury of knowing

You know that I like to dance But only when I'm dancing with you You know I must be bad at lying Cuz I've only ever told you the truth

But just when I think you're a hurricane You freeze right over and all that rain Turns to ice and your whole world just starts snowing And I don't have the luxury of knowing

Damn it must be easy Being in love with someone so blind Cuz - I'll tell you right now the only thing I really know Is that you might change your mind Any day you could change your mind

You know when I'm coming home You know when I'm coming to bed

Repeat chorus

And I don't have the luxury of knowing You know that I'm a bit too proud You know that I know how to pray
