LostAlone

Have we lost ourselves will our futures drowned
We're consequence of our fears and doubts
We're afraid to love or is our love afraid
If you trust in fate our future's ready made

Have we lost ourselves will our futures drowned
We're consequence of our fears and doubts
We're afraid to love or is our love afraid
If you trust in fate our future's ready made

I said hello to life and my heart took a beating
When I looked behind only crime was our feelings
When you know in your heart that our time is bleeding out life always
And I fill these books with shapes I've been dreaming
Every tortured trust we will never be defeated
And we know in our heart that our time is bleeding out life al ways

Have we lost ourselves will our futures drowned
We're consequence of our fears and doubts
We're afraid to love or is our love afraid
If you trust in fate our future's ready made

And we don't need words and we don't need meaning
We decipher thoughts from our sculptured breathing,
When you know in your heart, that your time is bleeding out lif e always
I am come to find, where my mind was leading
We could stop this fire, but I know we're just dreaming
And we know in our heart, that our life is bleeding out time al ways

Have we lost ourselves will our futures drowned
We're consequence of our fears and doubts
We're afraid to love or is our love afraid
If you trust in fate our future's ready made (4x)
