

Gravitate

Lou Barlow

what are you doing over there did we just talk about sensation then you walk in wrapped in a towel one almost answered invitation i'm way more trouble than i'm worth don't you be sinking in my quicksand we're lucky nobody got hurt i'm glad i left it to my right hand don't let it gravitate soon there'll be no escape bound for the game we two can play my mind is open not my arms half the world ago is locked out i led you on, you did no harm this story ended when you walked out
