

Lay Low

Lou Doillon

Let's just pretend for a little while,
That all there is, is here and now,
And you and I,
Hey ho...

Let's turn our backs,
To all the reasons why we shouldn't,
Let us lay low, in each other's stare,
Hey ho...

In the morning lights,
While the world get's busy,
We lay low, we lay low,
Hey ho...

And I know it wasn't wise,
To look straight back into your eyes,
And I don't need you to tell me so,
Hey ho...

And I don't want to think, no,
I don't want to know,
You'll tell me when it's my time to go,
Hey ho...

In the morning lights,
While the world get's busy,
We lay low, we lay low,
Hey ho...

In the morning lights,
While the world get's busy,
We lay low, we lay low,
Hey ho...

Let's just pretend for a little while,
That all there is, is here and now,
And you and I,
Hey ho...

Let's turn our backs,
To all the reasons why we shouldn't,
Let us lay low, in each other's stare,
Hey ho...

In the morning lights,
While the world get's busy,
We lay low, we lay low,
Hey ho...

In the morning lights,
While the world get's busy,
We lay low, we lay low,
Hey ho...
