1000 Eyes

Loudness

The engines are screaming The red lights are warning the sky The ground is now falling Release the dragon that flies

Welcome to the flight tonight We're in for some ride Destination is black and white Nowhere left you can hide

500 faces 1000 eyes Look at the ticket See what it buys

The storm is approaching The dark clouds are choking the air The tower is falling The cold winds are calling beware

Hold on to your sanity We are moving away Believe in humanity It's time we must pay

1000 cries Crying for mercy They harmonize

Think of what might have been If the worlds collide Think of what you have seen Time will decide

We're going to light the sky They all will feel us go Don't even question why No one will ever know

500 faces 1000 eyes Feel the teardrops They cut the ties

500 voices 1000 eyes Crying for mercy They harmonize
