

Perfect Now

Louis Tomlinson

You say to me your jeans don't fit
You don't feel pretty and it's hard to miss
I wish that you could see my point of view
As someone staring back at you
One Friday night when we're all out
I turn to you and you're looking down
And you don't wanna dance
I know you love to dance
You never stop given half the chance

Just keep your head up, love, keep your head up
Don't hide away, don't ever change
Keep your head up love, keep your head up
Don't look away, don't look away

'Cause everybody's looking at you now
My, oh, my
I guess some queens don't need a crown
And I know why
Even when your tears are falling down
Still somehow
You're perfect now

You never do but if you asked me to
I'd tell the truth lying next to you
'Cause you're the only one
When it's said and done
You make me feel like being someone good to you
Even at your worst
You steal the scene and it's unrehearsed
Don't you wanna dance, just a little dance?
I would never stop given half the chance

Just keep your head up, love, keep your head up
Don't hide away, don't ever change
Keep your head up love, keep your head up
Don't look away, don't look away

'Cause everybody's looking at you now
My, oh, my
I guess some queens don't need a crown
And I know why
Even when your tears are falling down
Still somehow
You're perfect now

Every insecurity
Like a neon sign
As bright as day
If you knew what you were to me
You would never try to hide away

'Cause everybody's looking at you now
My, oh, my
I guess some queens don't need a crown
And I know why
Even when your tears are falling down

Still somehow
You're perfect now
