

I sink and rise nowhere
And taste the child decay
And paralyze the darkness
There's something about today.
Unusually far gone
Unusually far gone
I'm beginning to pull right through the numb of the wishing chill and break through the anesthesia
The doctor says 'We're all here'
Diluted and senseless
The windstream that takes us
The weird dream that rakes us
Diluted and senseless
I've never seen far gone
This is what you mean, far gone
This is what you've done right
This is what you've done wrong.
My illusion's all been blown
Couldn't ignore the gray
As it tears my soul in parts
It wouldn't drag race (?)
Ten thousand miles apart
Unusually far gone
Unusually far gone
Unusually far gone
Unusually far gone
Diluted and senseless
The windstream that takes us
The weird dream that rakes us
Diluted and senseless
I sink and rise nowhere
And taste the child decay