

It Won't Last

Lovedrug

Now that I can't feel my heart in my chest, angels will swoop down and pick up the rest, I close my eyes as the chariot came, now is the moment to remain free across the country Time is a man with a blade in his hand waiting for storms from the heaven to land and pass, I know it won't last, this is the plan, take your life back in your hands
, I know it won't last
