

Misery Needs Company

Lovedrug

If you want to come in
You'll have to stretch my skin
If you want to survive with those beautiful eyes
You'll have to give in

Zeus says "run,
I wanna have some fun"
Let my lightening abide
At your cute little side and
I will charm you

You got it wrong, this isn't right
There's something beautiful
That hasn't yet died
You're letting go, I'm clinging on

I know that every misery needs company
So, who wants an enemy?
Stand up and raise your hand
Raise both now if you can

Time flows like miracle sand
Jesus Christ, I'm your man!
No, hate's not the answer
When love's on demand
