

Phantom

Lovedrug

remember I told you in life and death we'd bury our secrets if they tear us apart but love means going this far even when the ending is the start

When you dive into the ocean, I
I will be the ghost by your side

When you fall into the devil's tribe
I will be the ghost by your side

And when all of the angels collide
I will be the ghost by your side

They call me phantom, oh my
I will be the ghost by your side

Remember your demons will surface and fight
I will be a good phantom and keep on romancing
This cold little devil's tribe
And hold them away from every station crypt in the night
While you are escaping into the light

I'm by your side
