

Ray Gun

Lovedrug

I'm gonna take in a moment, then start it again
Will you warm my heart and remember when
I had to fall all apart before I knew how to mend
A broken heart that came and went

Is it too much to ask for
I'd pay for it all

My body is calling on a love that I never knew
Like a ray gun that calls out to you
My God, am I falling for a love that I never used
Like a ray gun that calls out for you

When the dream is around I am killing it live
Like a battle scar in the fire light
You'll find me shaking the ground
In a thunder ride
Like we're making love in the after life
