Zombie Apocalypse Rock Concert

Lovedrug

The crowd turned out They're screaming my name I hope I got what it takes babe This shit is insane

Now hit the lights And watch it all glow I feel your hand touch mine And baby that's why I know

I get the feeling, I get the feeling I get the feeling that you're in my veins I get the feeling, I get the feeling I get the feeling that you'll eat my brains

Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I got my hands in the air Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I just don't care

Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I got my hands in the air Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I just don't care

Don't think twice Just let it all go There are no refunds in the Flesh fun business of show

Now hit the lights And watch it all glow I feel your hand touch mine And baby that's why I know

I get the feeling, I get the feeling I get the feeling that you're in my veins I get the feeling, I get the feeling I get the feeling that you'll eat my brains

Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I got my hands in the air Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I just don't care

Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I got my hands in the air Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I just don't care

Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I got my hands in the air Won't let you down, I will be something But right now I just don't care
