Try to Sleep

You try to sleep 'cause there's never enough You try to sleep But then you never wake up Inside the dream You take a step You come to see To see your debt

Try to sleep Don't look at the camera Try to sleep

You stretch your wings You take a breath You hide your feet Embrace your head A tragedy No, there's never enough You try to sleep But then you never wake up

Try to sleep Don't look at the camera Try to sleep

But then you never wake up
