I see the world and what it could do to you
Losing the things so dear to you
So face the lights
Now smile for the cameras
'Cause you're on TV

If you've got something to lose
You've already lost
If you didn't get to make a choice
Raise your hand

Now all of my friends
Look like sun rays in disguise
And all my victims come rise
They're...
They're...
They're home

If you've got something to lose
You've already lost
If you didn't get to make a choice
Raise your hand
And say how did the world...
The world let me down again?
There always seems to be too much brick
Underneath my chins
It's double or nothing now
We're in the bonus round

So smile
For the camera
You're on TV
And all the world is watching
I see the world and what it could do to you
I see the world, what it could do to you
Oh!
I see the world!
I see the world!
What it could do to you!
I see the world!
What it could do to me!
