

Another Woman

Lucy Woodward

He gives me everything and I love him
He gives up everything to me
But although I show the world I need him
He'll never know 'cuz he's not free

And I can't do it to another, do it to another woman
I can't do it to another, do it to another girl
Her life depends on him more than mine ever could
I'd cry to look within, I got it bad and that ain't good
Oh no

He's with me night and day and I love him
He's near me come what may, yes indeed
But, though I cry the skies above him
I know that I should let him be

And I just did it to another, did it to another woman
I just did it to another, did it to another girl
Her life depends on him more than mine ever could
I'd die to look within, I've got it bad and I'm not good

Her life depends on him but then I feel the same
I'd cry to look within, I guess I'll just learn to live in pain

She can't do it to another, do it to another woman
She can't do it to another, do it to another girl

He gives me everything and I love him
She loves him