LUNA SEA

The swarm of people
All dressed up
They've forgotten what they really look like
The world's controlled by the clock that keeps on counting down towards ZERO

This garden of Eden so full of sin
If the one who bore this saw,
SHE would scold her child
SHE would shed her tears over her child...

Can't we make Noah's ark
for this ending that's too sudden?
Break free from the clock
and don't lose faith in the future...

I just want to say this...
