Roads

Maanam

Waiting, waiting for something to get warmer Cruel shadows kiss my cooling body Smiles come rarely now Can't contain this longing Distant hopes glow dimly Bitter - sweet temptation

Tears come rarely now, fever strikes like lighting
Thunder drowns my heartbeat, ice curls round my spine
Dark eyes getting darker
Can't contain this longing
Distant hopes glow dimly
Bitter - sweet temptation

Don't need faith without love Don't need love without desire Summer ends so very quickly Don't need love without fire

Slipped through so many lives So many hearts, so many roads Don't know which way to go Some were warm, but some were cold

Love tastet like opium Surrencer, sweet surrender Dark nights burn so brightly Time just fades away Time just fades away
