

Into the Night World

Machinae Supremacy

Pulled under,
I drown in search for meaning in this ocean of self-hating children and blame Why does the story always end the same way?

The fire's fading, I am

I will decide and shed forever my frozen image here on earth
I'm being pulled Into The Night World
Enter a Phantom Universe

(This) was not meant for me, and I feel you owe no emotion I hold my head high just the same
I will use what I have, what you gave away

We play with our words and we play with our tongues And we dream of songs that have yet to be sung while our hearts grow stale I know this ink on my skin forms a link from my sins to my soul I can see, now, sight beyond sight, of a world behind ours,
and the truth behind the veil

The fire's fading, I am playing along, it's all so fake
The fire's fading, I am
Enter a new age here on Earth
Enter a Phantom Universe
