Nothing Left

Machine Head

Withered away I see it
Every day complacent
Desecrates the fabric of lies
Emptiness fills inside me
Bitterness has denied me
Faith that this world
Could every really give a shit

When I feel it Come falling I turn you away

I am the things that you fear My leap of faith without a sound Don't push my back against the wall Yes I have strength will never fall

Withered inside
This soul has petrified
As concrete fills the skies
This life is disarray
Consequence every action
Brings violence from the passions
Loneliness the emotion
Buried inside

When I feel it Come falling I turn you away

I am the things that you fear My leap of faith without a sound Don't push my back against the wall Yes I have strength will never fall

I feel around the falling sun For so long I fade away... away For years to now been holdin' on For so long I fade away... away

I have nothing left for nobody else I have nothing left for nobody

Feel it
Come falling
I turn you away

I am the things that you fear My leap of faith without a sound Don't push my back against the wall Yes I have strength will never fall
