

Drifting Apart

Madcon

I see you on my side when I drive my car around
You're so on my mind, I just wanna break down
Your perfume on my clothes from the last time we embraced
If I knew you'd be gone tomorrow I would've loved you more today
I told you why I was through, all I ever knew was you Leaving, what's up, and I thought you and I would and could live it t hrough
Waited all the time fly, we ain't even say goodbye
Aiming up in the smoke and just disappeared to the sky

I can't help but feel it
You know you feel it too
I know it ain't easy
Now when we are through

And with that love is lost
We're drifting apart

Your hair in the sink, got it clogging up the drain
But I don't want to fix it, that's how much you're on my brain
We were shining like we both made of stars
Could've never told me we'd be here today, gone tomorrow
I never thought we'd be like this, you and I we shared the same song
I was used to toast for this greatness, guess we celebrated too long
Now we've gone with the wind, no telling when all this You were my hom e and I'd wait 'til the end, for us to move on

I can't help but feel it
You know you feel it too
I know it ain't easy
Now when we are through

And with that love is lost
We're drifting apart

It was time to let go
We're drifting, we're drifting
We're drifting, drifting apart
It was time to let go
Let it, drifting
Let it, drifting
Let it, drifting
Let it, drifting
Let it, drifting
I can't help but feel it was time to let go
It was time

And with that love is lost
We're drifting apart