

Just a Good Man

Magic Kingdom

Is there a reason some of us leave too soon
None could ever take the place they left in this world
Things will never be the same, life can be so unfair
Death takes the strong and brave,
A man of honour always in our hearts

There's no hell nor heaven, all I feel is pain
Now the path is open to the wonder Gate
May your soul fly higher in a better place
Light will show you the way to the final fate
Good bye my dear friend
All your life, just a good man

Glide with the rain and wind,
Ride where no man has been
Under emerald skies, now you're forever free
Through the green valleys of your dreams,
At the end of the rainbow
You can finally find some peace,
Sometimes the silence speaks for a thousand words

There's no hell nor heaven, all I feel is pain
Now the path is open to the wonder Gate
May your soul fly higher in a better place
Light will show you the way to the final fate
Good bye my dear friend
All your life, just a good man

There's no hell nor heaven, all I feel is pain
Now the path is open to the wonder Gate
May your soul fly higher in a better place
Light will show you the way to the final fate
Good bye my dear friend
All your life, just a good man

Farewell my dear friend
All your life, just a good man
