

Broken Promises

Magnum

I question the very things
You told me right from the start
I wondered what's happening
And watched it coming apart

The feeling's gone, I think you'll find
I'm not the one you had in your mind
You filled your cup, don't want no more
The game is up, I'm closing the door

Broken promises
I recall the things that you said
Broken promises
Must have let it go to your head

I might stumble but you know that I'd never fall
Maybe that's hard to believe
I'd be willing to love you but I'd never crawl
I'd be the first one to leave

I'm leaving, I've said before
You're trouble, straight from my past
There's nothing you've got to give
I'm not the first, I won't be the last

A joker's heart can't understand
The emptiness, the colder the hand
You pack it up and say goodbye
Without a tear clouding your eye

Broken promises
I recall the things that you said
Broken promises
Must have let it go to your head

I might stumble but you know that I'd never fall
Maybe that's hard to believe
I'd be willing to love you but I'd never crawl
I'd be the first one to leave

Wait for a moment
Just a moment
For a moment
Wait for a moment

Broken promises
I recall the things that you said
Broken promises
Must have let it go to your head

I might stumble but you know that I'd never fall
Maybe that's hard to believe
I'd be willing to love you but I'd never crawl
I'd be the first one to leave
