

Fake

Make Them Suffer

Never to all the words that you said.
To all the stories and lies that were spread.

"Don't trust anyone, stay inside and be conditioned."
"Don't trust anyone, stay inside and be conditioned."
To be a fake.

Don't push your views on me.
Stop spitting your slanderous filth.
Even your thoughts betray.

And now you're starting to wonder what's in my head.
And now I'm starting to wonder. What's in your head?

Say it to my face.
Never to all the words that you said.
To all the stories and lies that were spread.

Don't push your views on me.
Stop spitting your slanderous filth.
Even your thoughts betray.

I've got you pacing back and forth.
Frantically pacing. Anxiously waiting.

And now you're starting to wonder what's in my head.
And all my fondest dreams have turned to tears we shed.

"Don't trust anyone, stay inside and be conditioned."
"Don't trust anyone, stay inside and be conditioned."
To be a fake.

For all the years that I clung to every word you spoke.
For all my days that have just slipped away.
I gave my everything to you; but now you're everything I hate.

Say it to my face.
Never to all the words that you said.
To all the stories and lies that were spread.
