

1949

Mallory Knox

1949 I found you
Since then,
Never have their been two, hearts that cannot will not break th eir hold.
I saw your eyes as darkness faded, not second longer could I ha ve waited
For kiss from lips, that pierced my soul
60 years gone by, and still you are mine.

So sing your self to sleep tonight and let your demons go,
Cause every word you spoke to me
Has saved me for so long
And every move and every kiss, I've kept this on my tongue
Cause you're as beautiful to me as when you were young.

Cause you were as beautiful to me as when you were young.

So here we are, standing side by side for all this time
And well I could never comprehend a life without you and all of this I did
It was coming home to hard, I promise this together we will win
I understand it too our time, with this love there's no goodbye

60 years gone by, and still you are mine

So sing yourself to sleep tonight and let your demons go
Cause every word you spoke to me
Has saved me for so long
And every move and every kiss, I've kept this on my tongue
Cause you're as beautiful to me as you were when you were young
As when you were young.

So sing yourself to sleep tonight
And let your demons go,
Cause every word you spoke to me has saved me for so long
And every move and every kiss I've kept this on my tongue
Cause you're as beautiful to me, as when you were young You're as beautiful to me as when you were young

Yeah you're as beautiful to me as when you were young
