

Pyramids

Man Man

I know just what you are
It's not a bowl of ice cream
It's not a compact diamond
Or a double scoop of saline

I know just what we want
It's what we all desire
It's not a fox of love
Or the call of higher powers

I smash my crystal ball
I burn my tarot cards, cause
I can't hit the notes I used to

Pyramids of money silhouetted in your dreams
Pyramids of money that you'll probably never see, It's true

I don't need no bitch to show me all my flaws
From people burying their backs at night
I don't need no M.D. to show me how my heart should be We'll earn on their badges at night

I know just what you are
It's not a dying death wish
Or a child that's raised by Kony
I know just what you want
It's what we all desire
It's not a call for peace
Or knocking down the Eiffel Tower.

I smash my crystal ball
I burn my tarot cards, cause
I can't hit the notes I used to
I can't hit the notes I want to

Pyramids of money silhouetted in your dreams
Pyramids of money pirouetted in your dreams
Pyramids of money that you'll probably never see, It's true

I know just what you are
It's not a bowl of ice cream
It's not a compact diamond (I know just what you are)
Or a double scoop of saline
I know just what you want
It's what we all desire (I know just what you are)
It's not a fox of love
Or the call of higher powers

I smash the crystal ball
I burn my tarot cards

I know just what you are
It's not a burmese pony (I know just what you are)
It's not a dying death wish
Or a child that's raised by Kony

I know just what you want

It's what we all desire (I know just what you want)
It's not a call for peace or knocking down the Eiffel Tower

I smash my crystal ball (I know just what you are)
I burn my tarot cards (I know just what you are)

I know just what you are
I know just what you are
I know just what you are
I know just what you are
