

She's in Pictures

Man Overboard

I just love her name
I never really sleep, thought about it on the plane
And I draw it different ways
There was a little good weather but it never really stayed

And I guess I can't complain
She don't cause she won't
Think of yesterday
So long, and he's gone
That's okay with me
But why does it feel so weird when I'm looking at you?

I just did what's right
I never really sleep, had to catch another flight
She was in bed for the night
I guess we could meet up but her schedule's pretty tight

And I guess I can't complain
She don't cause she won't
Think of yesterday
So long, and he's gone
That's okay with me
But why does it feel so weird when I'm looking at you?

(3x):

And I already know, cause I can already tell
From how it feels and how I just keep looking at you
I creep your pictures I just stare right at you
