Come

Like a baby to the breast Every inch of you to test my skin

You

Deepen cracks and pour in more Still standing at the door in tears

And I feel and do you feel Enough love Or do you feel, or do you feel Enough love is too rare

Still

Leaving me untied in hands
That you tied and locked away alive

Here

I can't stand another scene Can't face another day in here

And I feel and do you feel Enough love Or do you feel, or do you feel Enough love is too rare

Do I feel, do you feel Enough love Or do you feel, or do you feel Enough love is too rare

You could weather me if I turned to stone If I turned to stone something like a statue You could keep me hidden in your garden Then no-one need ever know

And I feel and do you feel Enough love Or do you feel, or do you feel Enough love is too rare

Do I feel, do you feel Enough love Or do you feel, or do you feel Enough love is too rare
