

Tell you 'bout a story that disappeared like a broken dream, fading on awakening why you are here, you've come back, isn't really clear as the winter wind blows and the summer's breaking here, here with me and it seems, we were never far here, here are we Speaking of love and the blu sky left behind about you and me, helpless as two babies you reach out to touch my hand as I wonder why maybe it's time gone by maybe I'm just crazy here, here we are and it seems, we were never part
here, here we are
together, together, now forever

Light that purifies my every feeling shine right down on, down on me light that brightens all my darkest dreaming never leave me alone again, I need your love, love, love,
need your true love
in the strength that you give me in the courage that you give me guiding light revealing every meaning... uh...uh...uh...

Lost in the tunnel of life when we're feeling down we're carried away on the wings of darkness but now here you are and it seems, you were never far
here, here we are
together, together, now forever

so deep inside... alive in me... realize guiding light revealing every meaning...
never leave me alone again,
I need your love, love, love,
in the strength that you give me
in the courage that you give me...
