

I'm so ordinary
It's a shame about you
It's so debilitating
In your opposing view
Glad I made my stand
I'll be stone cold dead before missing you

Not a moment sooner than that
I'll be long gone out of your face
I'll return to where I belong
Like a drifter missing a home

I'm coming home I've had enough
Coming home where I belong
Coming home where I feel safe
It's why I know I must come home

I'll get down about it
Unlike you
So transitional
You'll move on too
Glad I made my stand
I'll be stone cold dead before missing you

Not a moment sooner than that
I'll be long gone out of your face
I'll return to where I belong
Like a drifter missing a home

I'm coming home I've had enough
Coming home where I belong
Coming home where I feel safe
It's why I know I must come home

I could never admit it
But I'm missing you

You resisted me
You could never acknowledge it
You're the problem
When I'm stone cold dead I'll be missing you

Not a moment sooner than that
I'll be long gone out of your face
I'll return to where I belong
Like a drifter missing a home

I'm coming home I've had enough
Coming home where I belong
Coming home where I feel safe
It's why I know I must come home
Home
Home