

Two times twelve is twenty-four - add the offspring then Twelve times seven is eighty-four - add the offspring then Thirty pairs times five amount of twice of seven score ten - oh really then?

Overpopulating our only home
All together multiplying - completely blind
Breeding ourselves into this living hell
And no one dares to speak their mind

Famine, destruction, conflicts, all-out war
Consequences of an everlasting Growth of man
Elimination of other species on our behalf
And no one dares to speak, while they can

Into oblivion - Obliteration
Human saturation - Overpopulation

Destruction within
Why can't reasoning win?

Keep on producing offspring
-They better not eat too much
Keep on sowing more fields with crops
-They better not use too much water
Why don't you expand the cattle breeding
-They better tighten their bowels
But another plastic bottle of water
-Only twice the price of gasoline

It is incredible how we're condemning ourselves
To become extinct through sheer polluting volume
Critical mass will arrive before we know it
And no one dares to speak, while they consume